DEPUTY COMMISSIONER

F.DO/2015/KVS(BPL)

Dated: 26/10/2015

Dear Principals,

Deeply ingrained success mechanism permeates our culture, and everyday, you know, we have been trying for it. It needs:

01. We must not allow ourselves to be railroaded into failure mechanism, come what may.
02. Our thoughts, our concepts, our images and our academic success are our assets. Let us endeavour hard develop and achieve them.
03. Our images sustain us in successful living, so let us learn to declare war on failure mechanism – and win the war in the battlefield of our mind. Our mind is a battlefield, and if we win, we'll experience peace of mind and happiness.
04. Our infantry, crawling through the underbrush, seeking contact with failure enemy, creeping through the darkness behind lines to discover positions, is our awareness of the importance of our thinking and our mental imaging.
05. Our airforce, equipped with Jets, is our adoption of success philosophy, our setting of goals, our use of success mechanism. The buildup of our air power is our work to strengthen our image, concept of our own worth and our results.
06. Our Navy can not transport troops to success, until it has located our failure enemy – failure mechanism. Before we can go forward in this war, we must discard this mechanism of failure in our KVs, and root it out of mind. The failure, infact, must be brought to light and exposed for what it is; it pulls us down from our true level of success as human beings, offensive obsessions that disfigure our images, that destroys aspirations of our children for the happiness that is their reasonable expectation of us in our KVs.

To crush failure and replace it with success – this requires a war. A vital war with the strident advances and efforts that are being made for you from this end, you can say that a success is mightier than anything.

So, let us declare a war on failure. Let us resolve timely that our aim is destruction of failure in our KVs – after then, success and happiness. Then, full living. This is enough to fill heart with unending happiness, and live life fully.

To sum up, it is all upto you to withstand the need of the hour (100% pass result in Class X and XII). No one else can succeed for you. Academic success conjurs up in our mind. It has been missing from our KVs so far. Prove and reach out, and claim it as your own.

No failure at all, in the background of the above, is acceptable for the year for Class XII and X.

Yours sincerely,

(Isampal)
